Lyrics to 'Song of the Lonely Mountain' by Howard Shore. Far over the Misty Mountains rise Leave us standing upon the height What was before we see once more Is our kingdom a distant light

Howard Shore—Song Of The Lonely Mountain Lyrics—
Fiery mountain beneath the moon The words unspoken, we'll be there soon For home a song that echoes on And all who find us will know the tune Some folk we never forget Some kind we never forgive Haven't seen the back of us yet We'll fight as long as we live All eyes on the hidden door To the Lonely Mountain borne We'll ride in the gathering storm

In J. R. R. Tolkien's Middle-earth legendarium, the Lonely Mountain is a mountain in the north of Wilderland.It is the location of the Dwarfish Kingdom under the Mountain.The town of Dale lies in a vale on its southern slopes. In The Lord of the Rings, the mountain is called by the Sindarin name Erebor. The Lonely Mountain is the goal of the protagonists in The Hobbit, and the scene of the climax.

Gently taking you into its soaring tale visiting heights so often longed for, but rarely experienced. It is a song of history, hope, determination of the dwarves, driven from their ancient home beneath the Lonely Mountain, of Middle Earth. It is all here, and they are to reclaim their ancient home and gold.
